“Ilaria Caccia” Annual Scholarship

Call for the years 2017-2021

The Department of Cultures and Civilisations of the University of Verona (www.dcuci.univr.it) and the Italian Association for Research on Dance (AIRDanza; www.airdanza.it) announce a competition for a study award dedicated to Ilaria Caccia, a young student at the University of Genoa, who departed prematurely; dance was for her an intensely lived passion.

Participation is reserved to the Master's or doctoral theses discussed at Italian, European and non-European universities during the academic years 2017-2018, 2018-2019, 2019-2020, and 2020-2021.

Qualifying dissertations will regard dance history in general, with neither geographical nor chronological limits.

The scholarship offered amounts to €1500 (gross of any withholding taxes).

The Committee will be formed by: prof. Alessandro Arcangeli (University of Verona - Department of Cultures and Civilisations), a member designated by AIRDanza, a representative of the Caccia-Sanfelici family, and an expert from a non-Italian academic institution. It will be chaired by prof. Alessandro Arcangeli.

Regulations

1. Theses, written in Italian, English, French or Spanish, must be submitted in electronic form (pdf) to the Chair of the Committee, prof. Alessandro Arcangeli (alessandro.arcangeli@univr.it), by midnight CET of 30 September 2021.
2. Submissions will have to be accompanied by a curriculum vitae et studiorum of the participant, by an official certificate attesting the year of discussion of the thesis, the vote or assessment obtained and by a brief synopsis, all in electronic form.

3. By 31 October 2021 the Committee will evaluate the received submission with a judgment, motivated and conclusive, and will proclaim the winner.
