SHORT ACADEMIC AND SCIENTIFIC PROFILE

Bio: After graduating cum laude in Foreign Languages at the University of Bologna in 2003, Chiara Melloni got a PhD in Linguistics at the University of Verona in 2007. She has been visiting student at the University of Essex (2005; sponsor: Prof. Andrew Spencer) and visiting scholar at the University of New Hampshire (2006; sponsor: Prof. Rochelle Lieber). In 2007, she was a post-doc researcher at the department of Linguistics, Literature and Communication Sciences of the University of Verona. She has been honorary fellow at the Universities of Verona (2006-2007) and Bologna (2007-2008). From 2007 to 2018, she has been Assistant Professor in General Linguistics at the Department Culture e Civiltà of the University of Verona. Since April 2018, she has been Associate Professor in General Linguistics at the Department Culture e Civiltà of the University of Verona.

Research: Her research interests cover the domains of morpho-syntax and lexical-semantics, and focus on the formal and interpretive properties of the morphologically complex lexicon. She has mainly explored word formation phenomena such as deverbal nominalization, parasyntesis, zero-derivation, root compounding and full reduplication, approaching them from a theoretical and comparative perspective (besides Romance, Germanic and Slavic, she has worked on Mandarin Chinese, Bantu and Kwa languages). Other research subjects, mostly concerning the lexicon/syntax interface, include cognate object constructions and the modelling of polysemy in Generative Lexicon theory. Currently, she is conducting experimental research on first and second language acquisition. In particular, she is exploring the role of morphological and phonological knowledge and awareness in typical and atypical development (dyslexia), and in monolingual and bilingual setting.

She is the author of Event and Result Nominals: A morpho-semantic approach (2011, Peter Lang). She published articles in several peer-reviewed journals including Annals of Dyslexia, Bilingualism: Language and Cognition, Frontiers in Psychology, International Journal of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism, Italian Journal of Linguistics, Journal of Cognitive Science, Journal of Linguistics, Lingue e Linguaggio, Studies in Language. She authored book chapters and articles in miscellanies published by De Gruyter, Benjamins, Language Science Press, Oxford University Press and Peter Lang.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

April 2018 – present

Associate Professor, SSD L-LIN/01 Glottologia e Linguistica, Department of Cultures and Civilizations, University of Verona.

23/12/2013

Abilitazione Scientifica Nazionale a Professore di Seconda Fascia per il Settore Concorsuale 10/G1 - Glottologia e Linguistica.

October 2007 – March 2018

Ricercatrice Universitaria confermata (Assistant Professor), SSD L-LIN/01 Glottologia e Linguistica, Department Culture e Civiltà, University of Verona.

May 2007 – May 2008

Cultrice della Materia (Honorary Fellow), University of Bologna.

February – October 2007

Post-doctoral Researcher in Linguistics, Department of Linguistics, Literature and Communication Sciences, University of Verona. Research project: “Rapporti tra processi morfologici, sintattici e semantici in alcune lingue d'Europa: Il caso della nominalizzazione deverbale”.

December 2006 – October 2007

Cultrice della Materia (Honorary Fellow), University of Verona.

EDUCATION

2004 – 2006

Ph.D. in Linguistics, Department of Germanic and Slavic Studies, University of Verona. Date of defense: June 07, 2007. Thesis title: “Polysemy in Word Formation: The Case of Deverbal Nominals”.

1998 – 2003

Laurea in Lingue e Letterature Straniere (summa cum laude), University of Bologna. Date of defense: July 10, 2003. Thesis title (Russian Linguistics): “La parasintesi verbale: un’ipotesi di applicazione al russo”.
